Instant and easy desktop sharing

ShareItNow is an incredibly simple yet powerful desktop sharing and web conferencing tool that you download and install on your computer. Use it to show anything on your desktop to anyone you wish to invite to your web meeting. All that attendees need to join your meeting is a computer and an Internet connection.

Attendees don't have to download anything, and presenters show only what they want with complete security.

Use ShareItNow to conduct training sessions, demonstrate a product, collaborate on a document, host a web tour and more.

Here's how ShareItNow works:

Install ShareItNow

All you need is a PC with an Internet connection, then simply download and install ShareItNow

Invite your audience

Direct your attendees to the "Join a Meeting" button at www.shareitnow.com.

To view your meeting, your attendees simply enter your email address at the login screen. There is nothing for your attendees to download or install

Start showing your desktop

Click on the ShareItNow icon in your system tray to start ShareItNow. Then simply size the sharing frame around what you want your viewers to see and click the "Start Showing" button. You're not locked into showing your entire desktop. Just what's in the sharing frame
